

Two out of three teens admit to texting while driving.

SOME OF THEM WILL NEVER BE HEARD FROM AGAIN.

Car crashes are the leading cause of death among American teens. Is any text message worth dying for?

A recent survey showed that 87% of teens say texting while driving is dangerous. Yet, most of them do it anyway. Allstate believes that until we make texting while driving illegal, kids are going to continue to do it. And continue to die.

SUPPORT THE STANDUP ACT

The STANDUP Act* (H.R. 1895) creates a National Graduated Driver Licensing (GDL) law that: reduces in-car distractions like texting, limits nighttime driving and the number of friends in the car, and increases the required hours of training and supervision. When states have implemented comprehensive GDL programs, the number of fatal crashes among 16-year-old drivers has fallen by almost 40%.

Let's help teens end their texting habits before texting habits end them. Tell your congressional representatives that you support the STANDUP Act. Go to allstate.com/STANDUP.

It's time to make the world a safer place to drive. That's Allstate's Stand.
