

What happened when New Jersey teenagers had to wait a year longer to drive?

MORE OF THEM LIVED TO TALK ABOUT IT.

New Jersey strengthened its Graduated Driver Licensing (GDL) laws and has saved lives. By simply raising its driving age from 16 to 17, not only did New Jersey see a dramatic decrease in teen driving deaths, it became one of the least deadly states for teen drivers.

Allstate believes there's a way to make every turnpike, highway, route and dirt road safer for teens.

SUPPORT THE STANDUP ACT OF 2009

The STANDUP Act* (H.R. 1895) creates a National Graduated Driver Licensing (GDL) law that limits nighttime driving, reduces in-car distractions, puts a cap on the number of friends in the car and increases the required hours of training and supervision. When states have implemented comprehensive GDL programs, the number of fatal crashes among 16-year-old drivers has fallen by almost 40%.

Let's make sure that no matter what state a teen calls home, we can all drive through it safely. Tell your congressional representatives that you support the STANDUP Act of 2009. Go to allstate.com/STANDUP.

It's time to make the world a safer place to drive. That's Allstate's Stand.

Allstate

You're in good hands.

Auto
Home Life
Retirement

*The STANDUP Act is the Safe Teen And Novice Driver Uniform Protection Act of 2009.

Sources: IIHS Wheels Weekly, 2008; Allstate America's Teen Driving Hotspots Study, May 2008; Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Web-based Injury Statistics Query and Reporting System (WISQARS) [Online] (2008). The Cupped Hands logo is a registered service mark and "That's Allstate's Stand" is a service mark of Allstate Insurance Company, Northbrook, IL, Allstate New Jersey Property and Casualty Insurance Company, Bridgewater, NJ. © 2009 Allstate Insurance Company