

Applicant Frequently Asked Questions

1. I just applied to a position. What now?

After you apply, you will receive a confirmation e-mail that your application has been successfully submitted. Once you receive this confirmation, your application has been submitted for review. For some time, your application will be in the review process. No further action is required by you at this time.

2. How long until I hear about my application?

The length of time your application will be under review can vary depending on multiple factors, including the position that you are applying to and how many other applicants there are for that position. You will be notified as soon as there is a change in your application status via e-mail or phone.

3. What is the status of my application?

After you apply and until further notice, your application is in the review process. If you proceed past the review process, you will hear directly from a recruiter. Your recruiter will keep you informed of your status throughout the remainder of the hiring process.

4. Where can I go for more information about the position I applied for?

You can always go to our career website, Allstate.jobs, for the details on the position that you applied for. The best resource for information about that position will be in the description of the position and its requirements. For additional information about Allstate, connect with our social handles below.

5. Where can I go to look into other positions?

Please visit Allstate.jobs to find the most-up-date information on our available positions. To make it easier to find a position you may be interested in, opportunities can be searched for and filtered by location and job type.

6. How will I hear about an interview opportunity?

If we review your application and would like to move forward with an interview, a recruiter will contact you directly via phone or e-mail to schedule the interview.

7. I want to promote myself, how can I do that?

Apply to open positions that match your area of interest and expertise. You are promoting yourself when you apply to any of our open positions. If you do not see a specific position that you are interested in, feel free to create a general profile at Allstate.jobs and upload your resume there. Please be sure to opt-in to e-mail notifications on your profile when a position matches your profile.
