

Allstate in Kentucky

For more than seven decades, Allstate has built its reputation on promising to be there when customers need help to protect their lives, families, property and communities. We help people through times of loss. We help them achieve financial security.

The values that help guide our business – integrity, caring, dependability, diversity and performance – are also at the core of our commitment to Kentucky communities that make our success possible.

Allstate has been an active participant in giving back to the people who live, work and make Kentucky communities strong, a tradition that runs deep in our company's history.

In Kentucky and across the country, Allstate is committed to strengthening our communities, protecting our customers, providing a great place to work and operating our business with integrity. It's not just part of our corporate culture, it's who we are. That's our stand.

Supporting local nonprofit organizations: The Allstate Foundation

To give customers peace of mind and to help them recover quickly from misfortune is the business promise we make every day. But to Allstate, being a good corporate citizen means building partnerships throughout Kentucky. Corporate sponsorships, Helping Hands committees that encourage community volunteerism and financial contributions of the Allstate Foundation are at the core of our community commitment. In 2004, Allstate Kentucky donated $19,500 in Foundation dollars.
