

Allstate in Montana

For more than seven decades, Allstate has built its reputation on promising to be there when customers need help to protect their lives, families and property. We help people through times of loss. We help them achieve financial security and realize their dreams.

Our promise to be there extends beyond our customers to the communities where they live. We're committed to building strong partnerships in the communities we serve, by providing financial support for specific programs, through individual grants, or through the volunteer efforts of our exclusive agents and employees. The values that help guide our business – integrity, caring, dependability, diversity and performance – are also at the core of our commitment to the many Montana communities that make our success possible.

We take great pride in the programs we've helped put in place in Montana. Programs funded by The Allstate Foundation teach financial literacy for aspiring homeowners, provide safe learning environments and playgrounds for youth, refurbish homes for needy families and deliver fire safety programs. These are issues that affect us all.

Both here in Montana and across the country, Allstate is committed to strengthening our communities, protecting our customers, providing a great place to work and operating our business with integrity. That's our stand.

Volunteering in the community: Helping Hands

More than 50 percent of Allstate employees participate in volunteer activities through the company's Helping Hands program. They can be found painting homes, rehabbing parks and buildings, working in soup kitchens, spending time with seniors and conducting food and clothing drives throughout local communities. For Allstate employees in Montana, "You're in Good Hands with Allstate®" is more than a company slogan – it's a way of life. Through their volunteer efforts, they put time, energy, expertise and compassion behind community projects, making a significant impact in the lives of those they touch. The Allstate Helping Hands program, which is celebrating 28 years of community service, has been recognized for bringing caring and compassion to communities all across America. With more than 200 committees countrywide, Helping Hands organizes volunteer events that support our communities.
