

Allstate in South Carolina

For more than seven decades, Allstate has built its reputation on promising to be there when customers need help to protect their lives, families, property and communities. We help them achieve financial security, through our insurance and financial products. Our intent is to be there when people buy cars and homes, start new businesses, send their children to college or plan for retirement. We are also there to help them through times of loss.

The values that help guide our business – integrity, caring, dependability, diversity and performance – are also at the core of our commitment to the 310,707 families in South Carolina communities that make the success of our region possible.

In both our regional area and across the country, Allstate is committed to strengthening our communities, protecting our customers, providing a great place to work and operating our business with integrity. That's our stand.
