

Allstate in Texas

For 75 years, Allstate has been a champion of business and social initiatives to help improve the quality of life for all Americans.

We help protect people in times of loss and help them prepare for a financially secure future. In 2005, one in seven Texas automobile owners and one in six Texas homeowners were insured with Allstate, entrusting us to be there in times of prosperity as well as times of tragedy.

In 2005, tragedy struck the Gulf Coast in the form of two devastating hurricanes. Allstate agents and claim professionals have played a major role in helping our customers recover. I'm proud of their efforts on the job as well as their personal generosity. I also feel a profound sense of admiration at the courage and resilience of the coastal residents who've had to endure so much loss.

Allstate is an integral part of the communities in which it does business. Foundation grants, corporate investments, supplier contracts, jobs and taxes paid helped build stronger communities and fueled local economies in cities and towns throughout Texas in 2005. These investments are possible through the hard work and dedication of our people. "You're in Good Hands® with Allstate" is more than a company slogan; it's a way of life.
