

Accountancy & Finance Careers

Emma Casey

What does an Allstate Financial Analyst do?

Being a financial analyst at Allstate involves working within a team based in Belfast which work as a wider part of a team based in USA. We support the Allstate corporation in a wide range of activities from financial reporting, analysis and consulting.

Where do you work?

Belfast

What interests you most at work?

The different areas of the business that are interlinked to make Allstate function successfully and in an innovative manner.

To you, how does the ‘Opportunity of a lifetime’ apply to working at Allstate?

The opportunity of a lifetime applies to Allstate as there is always something new to learn and there seems to be a real opportunity to grow your career with the motto being to “Own it”. There is also a lot of emails and publication regarding the opportunity to participate in programs and events internally and externally.

What’s one thing people would be surprised to learn about you?

I have naturally blonde hair

What’s the best piece of advice you’ve received?

A setback is never a bad experience, just another one of life’s lessons.

If you could meet anyone from history, who would it be and why?

William Shakespeare

Find out more about our Accountancy & Finance Roles:

CLICK HERE